FOR RELEASE DECEMBER 29, 2021

Take time for yourself with KFPL's Grownup Storytime

We all need time to enjoy activities that nourish our hearts and minds. For many, that looks like a conversation with friends, paging through a book, or listening to an audiobook. Kingston Frontenac Public Library's Grownup Storytime combines all three, bringing you a live reader, great stories, and a chance to connect with other people online.

As organizer Margi McKay says, "Why should kids have all the fun?"

The six-week series runs from 1 to 2 p.m. every Monday from Jan. 10 through Feb. 14. You can have lunch, work on a hobby, or just sit and take a break from your busy day while listening to short stories or chapters from longer works. We invite participants to stay online and discuss the readings, too.

You will also receive an email later the same day with links to the KFPL catalogue so you can reserve both the sources of the day's readings and other related titles you might enjoy.

Register online for the whole six-week series at <https://calendar.kfpl.ca/event/5890221> or by phone at (613) 549-8888. Signing up for any session will automatically register you for all subsequent sessions.

Registrants will be emailed the link immediately upon registration and will need to download Zoom in advance. Please note there will be a different Zoom link for each week.
