Schedule a One-on-One Genealogy Session and explore your family history

Calling all genealogy enthusiasts! Delve into your family history with the guidance of Kingston Frontenac Public Library's Local History and Heritage Librarian, Anne Hall.

Hall will provide invaluable tips and suggestions during an engaging, one-on-one Zoom session. Whether you're just starting your genealogical journey or need assistance with specific research hurdles, this is the perfect chance to gain insights from a seasoned expert.

"Genealogy is like putting together the pieces of a fascinating puzzle, and our Genealogy One-on-One Sessions aim to equip participants with the knowledge and tools they need to unravel their family's past," said Hall.

Each session will be held at 3:15 p.m. on Wednesdays from August 23 through September 27.

Registration opens on August 12, and individual session links can be found at <https://calendar.kfpl.ca/events?start=23-08-2023&end=27-09-2023&term=genealogy>. Please sign up for only one session to allow others to participate. Be ready to provide details about your question or problem when you register.

Registration for each session will close one week before the respective date to ensure adequate preparation and a personalized experience for each participant.
