Kingston Frontenac Public Library’s early literacy programs are based on the American Library Association’s initiative Every Child Ready to Read. This research-based initiative incorporates simple practices – sing, talk, read, write and play – to help parents and caregivers develop early literacy skills in children from birth to age five. Developing early literacy skills makes it easier for children to read once they begin school and helps foster a lifelong love of reading and learning!

Books for Babies

Stories, songs, rhymes and tickles for newborns and pre-walkers. Parents and caregivers will learn, and practise, fun and simple ways to incorporate early literacy skills in the home. For newborns and pre-walking babies.

Information for Parents and Caregivers

If your child is 6 years old or younger, it is expected that you will accompany him or her to our programs.

If your child is 7 to 11 years old, you must remain in the library while he or she attends our programs.

If your child/youth is 12 years or older, they may visit the library independently and may act as a caregiver for younger siblings.

For registered programs only, parents of children ages 9, 10 and 11 years may leave the building if they have provided staff with emergency contact information.

The library is unable to accommodate groups at registered or drop-in programs for children. Groups include classes, daycares, daycamps, community groups, and any groups providing childcare and/or educational/recreational services to children.
